LDD Newsletter

Have you tried LDD?

Welcome one and all to LDD's first newsletter.

It's been an exciting journey since LDD started in 2016. From its inception this platform for ecological sustainability within the arts has grown step-by-step through collaboration with many creative individuals.

When the construction of the first LDD store began at HKU Pastoe, the decision to build with reusable materials was made. This set the trend for all future LDD stores and was incorporated into the design of the next two stores, at HKU Oudenoord and IBB, in collaboration with a student from product design.

Then four fabulous students from HKU Arts and Economics Incubator Program, co-developed, launched and promoted the LDD stores and our slogan "Have you tried LDD?" was created. LDD invites artists and creators to become members of a circular art community, by swapping and exchanging their excess creative materials.

The LDD stores have received a lot of creative materials from contributors such as: Impakt, IFFR, BAK, De Helling and many other individual artists. These fabulous materials have fuelled and supported many students and artists in their creative process. We continue to welcome such contributions and collaborations.

Coming up next - 3rd of September

LDD is excited to announce that we are going to be expanding outside of the HKU to De Nijverheid. With this 4th store coming soon we look forward to welcoming and supporting more artists and creators within our circular community.

Here are 3 ways to get involved with the LDD circular community.
